

Kids' Questions about Sex

Parents who know how to answer the frequently asked questions will be less uncomfortable, better prepared and more willing to talk with their children.

The following unedited questions were asked by students in response to this statement, "A nurse is coming to speak with your parents. She wants to help them learn about your questions and help your parents answer them. What are your questions? What do kids your age need to know?"

Students do not receive the list of questions. The list is for parents to give them insights into what children are thinking and asking.
